.....Down the frozen way a string of wolfish dogs toil. Their bristling fur is rimmed with frost. Their breath freezing in the air as it leaves their mouth, spouting forth in plumes of vapour that settle upon the hair of their bodies and forming crystals of frost. The dog sled spans across the white fields. Glittering snow flies behind running dogs. As you stand behind the sled pulled by dogs you have that special feeling, which is the same as polar hunters, explorers of polar lands, goldminers searching for a better cut as they had in the past. All those people have one thing in common - the connection with their dogs as their lives depended on them.

Did you read the books by Jack London in your childhood? Do you have deep in your mind the wish to try out this life? At least for a while? Here we are....

In today's fast paced lifestyle, it is not unusual for people to be seeking a retreat in nature, looking for an opportunity to connect with the great outdoors and find some peace and calm away from their normally hectic routines. Some are just people looking for an unusual or exotic experience or a chance for a new adventure. If you are one of them, love animals, the outdoors, and adventure, we invite you to come and join with a pack of loveable sled dogs in our HUSKY SCHOOL.

Our dogs are great for petting and socialization, good with children, and quite photogenic. Get a chance to learn the ropes of the trade by feeding, harnessing the dogs, helping to get them lined up, and even be the musher with your very own team! You can go for short tours, or schedule accommodations with us and stay for 3-10 days for longer tours. You will learn about the important relationship between the musher and the dogs and your role in the team.

We offer seasonal opportunities to try this amazing and fun filled sport. During winter when there is snow, sleds are the means of transportation. But during fall and spring, we also offer wheeled carts that you stand on like a sled and that we use for training for races as well as tours. Both methods are fun and challenging.

During summer we host several camps for children. This year's theme was "Polar dogs and English" and was a great success. We work to keep the activities varied and interesting, yet also active and include indoor rock climbing, rafting and hiking along with various crafts. We look forward to next summer and the possibility to expand our camps from 2 to 4 in number to be able to share the experience with more children.

We offer lectures and presentations yearlong, as well as accommodations for those coming to the husky school, or just wanting to enjoy the bountiful nature and outdoor sports activities that are found here in the Jizera Mountains. Cycling, hiking in summer or downhill and crosscountry skiing in winter are just a few of the activities available in this region. We welcome visitors to stop in and pet the dogs or play with puppies, and especially enjoy field trips from the various schools visiting the area.

During the day you can stay around the dogs. In the evenings you can enjoy sitting around a bonfire, relax in the sauna, or watch films about our dogs, or dog related themes. You can also try your hand at some of the arts and crafts such as making stained glass, working with glass beads, felting, knitting socks or a hat, or designing your own t-shirt for some souvenirs to take home along with a good story about your creative abilities..

We are located in the northern Bohemia area, in the Jizera Mountains approximately a 90 minute drive from Prague. If you are visiting from out of the country, you might try a combination holiday and spend a few days visiting this historical, and gorgeous city at the heart of Europe.

Many of our guests are Czech natives, but there have also been people from as far away as New Zealand, Canada, and South Africa! During a normal year we can expect guests from Great Britain, Germany, Austria, Poland, France, Italy and Slovakia. We are able to speak both native Czech and native American English, with English being the language of the home. If you're looking for practice in English, or just the comfort of speaking English, you have found the place.

Detailed information can be found at WWW.HUSKIES.CZ which includes program options, information about accommodations, as well as pricing and rates. Gift certificates are also available to be used for the loved one you wish to surprise with something unique.

Additionally, you can visit WWW.HUSKIESPAW.COM for a selection of t-shirts, mugs, sweatshirts and other items that provide you with souvenirs or gifts and help us with our never ending dogfood budget.

The only entrance requirement is a love of dogs. We try to customize each person's experience to best suit them. Be the musher, or ride in the sled, but have a good time! Come one, come all! Come as strangers, but leave as friends!
